

If subscribing or purchasing a course or program, I agree to the following:

- To the best of my ability, I believe I am fully mentally prepared and excited for this journey!
- I have (or can quickly acquire) the required essentials listed on the service page including: a working computer, internet access, appropriate writing software, time to join our Thursday calls, energy to participate in the Skool community and a little notebook I carry around proudly as an author.
- I understand that if I am unable to make a valuable Thursday call, I will submit my work ahead of time to Cheeky@copperharborvitality.com and watch the recording afterward.
- I understand that community engagement is a big part of my success, and I will participate to the best of my ability.
- I understand that I am investing in this course for myself. Any other arrangements to share the video information I am purchasing, either public or private, is not included in this purchase and will result in my release from the program.
- I understand that if I feel lost or confused at any time, I will contact the team at Cheeky@copperharborvitality.com, so they can help me.
- I understand that I can cancel the reoccurring subscription at anytime.
- I understand that The Cheeky Scribe does their best to stay up-to-date in a fast-paced writing and publishing world. Any information I receive through the calls and course are, to the best of their knowledge, the truth. Therefore, I release the right to prosecute The Cheeky Scribe for any out-of-date or disproved information I may receive in this course.
- I understand that while this course guides me through the writing and/or publishing process, the success of my book is ultimately my responsibility.
- I understand that any negative reader feedback I receive once my book is published is, sadly, the way of the world and not the fault of The Cheeky Scribe. I will use this course and coaching as tools and guidance to make sure my book it up to the ultimate moral standards, and I understand that any further questions about libel, using other people's names and similar legal topics are best consulted through a libel attorney.
